Local Stockshow Will Give Extra Money This Year

Last week the Randall County Junior Livestock Association announced that it was giving $30 in additional prize money this year. Harley Burrus, president of the association, also said that certificates authorizing slaughter would be issued to people who bought animals at the sale after the show.

The prize money that was voted in addition to the regular prizes will be given owners of the top 25 animals. Owners of the five top lightweight swine will receive $1.50 each. Owners of the five top heavyweight swine will also receive $1.50 each. The owners of the five top heavies and top lightweight steers will each receive $1.00 and the owners of the five top lambs will get an extra $1.00 each.

Persons who wish to buy an animal for slaughter at the sale after the show will receive a certificate, properly filled out and signed. Formerly the person buying an animal could not slaughter it immediately because of OPS rules. The certificate makes it possible for people to form a partnership and buy an animal for slaughter if that arrangement is desired.

The show is scheduled to be held in the city barn and the sale will be conducted immediately after the show, Saturday. The exact place of the sale will depend upon the weather. Weather permitting, the sale will be held outside. In the event the weather makes it disagreeable to hold the sale outside, arrangements will be made to get inside for the event.

Funeral Services for Mrs. I. L. Perkins Conducted Friday

On Friday afternoon, February 22, funeral services were held in the First Methodist Church for Mrs. Nancy Jane Walters Perkins, with the Rev. Herschel Thurston officiating, assisted by Rev. Alby Cockrell of Petersburg and Rev. Conrad Ryan of Groom.

Mrs. Perkins, 75-years-old, longtime resident of the Panhandle, died Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 20, at 3:45 o'clock at the family home here. She had not been in good health for the past ten years, but her condition had been quite serious in the past 14 months.

Mrs. Perkins was born at Seguin, Texas, on April 15, 1876.

She was married to I. L. Perkins at San Marcos on July 7, 1903. The couple moved to Turkey in 1916 and had lived in this region since that time.

Mrs. Perkins joined the Methodist Church early in life and was a loyal and active member.

Surviving are her husband; a son, Robert L. Perkins of Big Spring; two daughters, Mrs. Alfred Woods, of Canyon, and Mrs. Wesley Woods, of Groom; seven grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were under the direction of Blackburn-Shaw Funeral Home of Amarillo with burial in Dreamland Cemetery.

Odd Type Crime Appears Locally

During the past six months three robbery by assault charges have come up in Randall County and all three have resulted in prompt arrests. Local authorities could not account for the sudden rise in this particular offense. It is the type that seldom happens and when it does there is usually a great difficulty involved in obtaining enough evidence for a conviction.

One case has already been tried. The charge was changed from robbery by assault to aggravated assault and the penalty set at $100. Another one of the robbery by assault charges resulted in an indictment by the grand jury. The third and more recent case is still awaiting grand jury action.

C of C To Start Work Program Thursday Night

Friday morning the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce met for breakfast and a general business discussion at the Chuck Wagon Cafe. At that time it was decided to have another meeting Friday night, February 29, at 8 o'clock in the City Hall. This meeting will be for the purpose of getting the new work program started. All of those interested in this work program are urged to attend the meeting Friday night.

Those present at the Friday morning breakfast were: E. E. (Gene) Davis, Bob Bellah, Clark Jarnagin, Cliff Mlinar, E. M. Myers, Delbert Lowes, Clarence Eugene Thompson and Cecil Massey.

The Friday night meeting will be the first one to be held in the evening since the Chamber of Commerce started having breakfast meetings early last fall. Good attendance has been reported at each of these meetings.

The evening meeting on Friday was scheduled at that time in order for more people to attend. At that time committees will be selected for the new work program for the fiscal year. The public is invited and it is hoped that many people will be present who could not have made a 7:00 a. m. meeting.

Regular Chamber of Commerce evening meetings were formerly held on Thursday evenings at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Massey announced that for this month only the Chamber would deviate from the regular procedure and have their regular meetings on Friday night at 8 o'clock.

Organ Recital To Be Held at First Baptist Church

The Amarillo Chapter of the American Guild of Organists is presenting Walter Reneker in an organ recital Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist Church at 4 o'clock. The organ to be used in the recital is a Model 10 Baldwin Electronic recently purchased by the church. This is the initial public presentation of this model organ in the Texas Panhandle.

Mr. Reneker is a graduate of the Westminster Choir College of Princeton, New Jersey. He majored in organ, piano and voice and sang with the Westminster Touring Choir for two years.

He has worked as full time Minister of Music at Pawtucket, Rhode Island; New Haven, Conn.; Boston, Mass., and recently at Polk Street Methodist of Amarillo. He is presently with the Myers Music Mart in Amarillo.

The public is cordially invited to attend this recital in the auditorium of the First Baptist Church.

Cooks Get Treat Of Fried Chicken

Most people think of cooks as being the persons who always dish out the food. In a way that is correct but cooks enjoy a treat every now and then the same as anyone else. This is what happened to the women who cook the food for the children who eat in the cafeteria of West Texas Elementary School. The teachers of that school treated them to a fried chicken luncheon Monday, February 25.

The women of the cafeteria expressed their appreciation with this note: "Just a note of thanks to the teachers of West Texas Elementary School for the lovely fried chicken luncheon served to us on Monday, February 25. The luncheon was greatly enjoyed and appreciated by all."

Cub Scouts To See Animal Film

Because Saturday's picture at the Olympic Theater is in line with the subject that the Cub Scouts have been studying, they will receive tickets to see the show. This announcement was made early this week by Dudley Bayne, one of the local leaders of the Cub Scouts.

Bayne said that he was mailing the tickets out during the first part of the week. By allowing this much time he felt sure that all Cub Scouts would have received their tickets by show time Saturday. He explained that it was an animal picture and that the Cub Scouts had been studying animals during the recent past.

Buffs to Play Tech in Lubbock Monday

The Buffaloes must win at Lubbock against Texas Tech next Monday night in order to win a clear title to the Border Conference basketball crown. That is, unless Flagstaff springs a surprise and wins tonight, in which case the Buffs would win the crown without throwing a shot.

New Mexico Aggies will complete their Arizona campaign tonight at Flagstaff. The Aggies defeated the University of Arizona Monday night, 65-55; and Tempe State College Tuesday night 57-44. Flagstaff yet remains on their schedule, to be played tonight.

The Buffaloes have this week off, and are working hard in preparation for the battle at Lubbock Monday night. Tech was defeated in Canyon recently, but the South Plains team is reported to have greatly improved since that time. Coach Gus Miller has a wide selection of combinations to throw at the Tech bunch. If one combination fails to work another one will go into the game to defend the title, which the Buffs will hold by a half game.

Should New Mexico Aggies win tonight; and should the Buffs be defeated at Lubbock, there will be a tie for the title which will be played off by the two teams.

Water Problem Discussed Here Tuesday Night

Tom McFarland, manager of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce and district director of this area's water committeemen, announced Tuesday night that he was resigning his position with the Hereford Chamber of Commerce as of Wednesday night to accept the position as manager of the High Plains Water District at Lubbock.

At the same time he asked the members of the four county water committee to relieve him as their district director.

Two men were nominated to be candidates for the position. These were Jim Line of Bushland and G. A. Deitz of Happy. The election of a man to this position will be done by a ballot and anyone holding a poll tax receipt dated 1951 and residing in this district is eligible to vote in this election.

It was also stressed that a space would be left on the ballot for a write-in name in case voters desired someone whose name does not appear on the ballot.

The use of water in this area is rapidly requiring the attention of more people. It has always been the life-blood of the plains and Tuesday night's meeting pointed up the fact that a critical problem was soon to be faced in this area on the subject of water and water rights.

The committeemen enjoyed a delicious fried chicken dinner arranged by Cecil Massey of the local Chamber of Commerce. The dinner and after dinner meeting was held in the Blue Room of West Texas State College Cafeteria.

Two future water problems were discussed. They concerned the spacing of irrigation wells and how to control irrigation pumping, which boils down to the old question of waste water.

Those attending the meeting were: Fritz Friemel of Umbarger, John Stockett of Wayside, G. A. Deitz of Happy, Jim Line, Eldon Plunk, and W. J. Hill of Bushland, Clifford Stevens and Melton McGehee of Wayside and Gale Neal of Dawn. Cecil Massey, manager of the local Chamber of Commerce and arranger of the meal, was also present for the proceedings.

The men of the committee serve on a sliding term basis from one to three years. This means that each year one-third of the members go off and new men come on. In this manner two-thirds of the committee will always be men who have had some experience in the water matters.

At Tuesday night's meeting numbers were drawn to determine the length of each man's term. Those absent had a number drawn for them.

The drawing ended with Eldon Plunk drawing a number for three years, W. J. Hill, one; Jim Line, two; Deitz, one; Friemel, two; Stockett, one; Rockwell, three; McGehee, three; Stevens, two; Neal, three; Rudd, two and Dodson, one year.

The committee discussed the problems at hand and made tentative plans until something definite can be accomplished. A lot of technical work involving the water table and geological formations of the area will be necessary before a definite plan can be put into action.

Mrs. R. C. Yarborough is at the bedside of her brother, D. C. Trussell of Logan, Utah, who is seriously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Rinton Collier and sons of Santa Anna, Calif., visited in the Toni Dewey home.

1-B Basketball Games Will Be Played in City

Thirteen district champions will meet in the new field house Friday and Saturday to battle for the Regional 1-B basketball championship.

Semifinal games will be held at 2:00 and 3:20 Saturday afternoon. The battle for consolation honors will begin at 7:30 and will be followed by the championship game at 8:50.

25,500 Fans Have Witnessed Buffs Play Basketball

Setting a new West Texas home attendance record this season, the loop-leading Buffaloes pulled 25,500 fans into the new fieldhouse to view 10 cage contests. The new mark was second high in the state with only Texas University topping the figure.

Not only did fans turn out to set the new record but the total for this year fell just short of the combined attendance for the past three seasons.

Top attendance for one game came when the Buffs played Texas Tech on January 24. Thirty-seven hundred people saw the battle.

Officials of the college are already looking forward to next year when it is planned to bring some of the nation's top quintets into Canyon.

Cold Wave Here Brought Light Moisture Sunday

A cold wave hit the Panhandle Saturday which dropped the mercury to 17 degrees above zero on Monday night. It had been predicted that the temperature would lag to 7 degrees above zero at that time but fortunately the mercury did not reach this low.

A light shower fell Sunday, with some snow Sunday night and Monday morning. The sky cleared by Monday noon. Moisture amounted to only .08 of an inch throughout the two day period.

Wheat is looking well in spite of the continued dry weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy McDaniel of Canadian spent the week-end in the parental J. C. McDaniel home.

Members of the present City Commission of Canyon have filed applications as candidate for reelection in the April election. This is the only list of officers which has been filed for a place on the official ballot.

Mayor Andy Walsh, and Commissioners O. W. Parker and Herschel Coffee, have agreed to run for a second term. All were elected as members of the City Commission two years ago.

Dollar Day To Be Observed in City March 7th

The March Dollar Day will come on Friday, March 7, which will be the first Friday in the month.

Dollar Day has been generally recognized by the business firms of Canyon and citizens throughout the county. Plenty of good bargains have been in evidence in all of the stores of Canyon throughout the period while Dollar Day has been operated.

Citizens of Randall county are advised to be on hand next week for the regular month March Dollar Day!

No Greenbugs Are Found in Wheat Fields

No greenbug damage has been in evidence so far this year.

Only one farmer has reported that he has seen evidence of damage in his wheat by the greenbugs, but this damage has been light in comparison to the damage done by the insects during the past two seasons.

By this time last year the wheat had been badly damaged by the bugs. The warm temperature of the past few weeks would have developed the growth of greenbugs had there been any of the pests among the wheat fields.

There has been little moisture since September, but the winter months have been open with little really cold weather.

Blaze Destroyed Beckwith Farm Home Wednesday

The five room home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Beckwith was destroyed by fire Wednesday afternoon. The fire occurred at the farm house, located 4½ miles north of town on highway 87, after a fire was built in the wood burning stove and the house left alone while chores were done.

At the time the fire started La Vada Beckwith was the only person there. Her parents returned while the house was burning. La Vada said that she noticed the flames while she was doing the chores.

The Canyon fire department was called but was too late to save the house from total destruction. There was also a Hereford fire truck and crew on the scene. The crew had the truck in town to attend a weekly fire drill and they joined the fire department in making the call.

Items saved from the blaze were the kitchen range, a refrigerator, and a deep freeze. A piano was pulled from the blazing house but not before it had been damaged by fire. According to Mr. Beckwith, there was no insurance on the place and the estimated damage would total approximately $6,000.

Retired Minister Here for Week-end

Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Corkey and daughter were here over the weekend visiting in the Warwick home. Mrs. Warwick had been a friend of the family many years ago while Rev. Corkey was pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Jefferson, Iowa. He had visited in Canyon in the J. E. Winkelman home in 1909, a year after the family had moved to Texas.

Rev. Corkey was born in Ireland. His father was a Presbyterian pastor; eight sons were Presbyterian ministers, and three daughters were missionaries. Since retirement from the active ministry, Rev. and Mrs. Corkey have lived in Michigan. Their daughter is a member of the staff in the hospital at Fort Hood, Texas, where she has worked for 10 years.

Gus Miller Named Among Leading Basketball Coaches

William A. (Gus) Miller, head basketball coach and athletic director at West Texas, has been named as one of the top 20 cage coaches in the nation. The honor, based on won and lost records of mentors in the business for 10 years or more, shows Miller with the highest percentage among the men in the selected group.

As of Feb. 11, Miller, who has tutored cagers for 20 years, had a career record of 395 wins as against 133 losses for a percentage of .747. Miller's coaching career has included tours at Trinidad (Colorado) and Texas Wesleyan before assuming duties at West Texas in 1942.

Local Show Has Grown Rapidly For Five Years

Five years ago the local Lions Club started something by promoting a Randall County Junior Livestock show. The show has continued to grow and attract areawide attention.

In 1948 the Lions Club started the show by donating money and appointing officers to responsible positions in showing FFA and 4-H club boys' animals. Today, the Randall County Junior Livestock Show has more than 300 members and officers, and carries its own bank account.

There was no sale after that first show in 1948 but by the time 1949 rolled around things were better organized and a sale was held. At this second show there were 35 calves and 32 hogs exhibited. Doyle Bourn showed the Grand Champion calf and received 64 cents per pound for it by running it through the sale ring after the show. The Grand Champion pig was shown by Jimmy Sykes and it sold for 62 cents per pound.

By this time the show had hit its stride and was consistently holding its own. In the 1951 show there were 34 calves and 42 hogs. This was last year's show and Jerry Parker showed the Grand Champion Calf which sold for 91 cents per pound.

The Grand Champion pig, shown by Lowell Hill, brought 67½ cents per pound. At this show Doyle Bourn had the Reserve Champion calf and Cap Elliott had the Reserve Champion pig.

At present the Randall County Junior Livestock Show is planning something extra special for next year. The self-supporting organization should have its own building and grounds for the 1953 show.

The show this year is to be held in the City Barn. If the weather permits the sale following the show will be conducted on the square. But if things go according to plans, next year will be very different. Then the organization will have its own building in which to conduct the show as well as the sale following the show.

Rockwells Grandson Died Tuesday in California Home

Marshall Rockwell, uncle of the deceased, had gone to California to be with his sister and return the body back to Amarillo.

The funeral service was held Monday afternoon in Amarillo, conducted by Rev. Hubert Thomson of the San Jacinto Methodist Church, former pastor of the Methodist Church in Canyon.

In addition to his parents, the boy is survived by two sisters and a brother; his grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rockwell, and Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Keeter of Amarillo.

Taft Has the Texas Delegation Sewed Up in His Race for GOP

Republicans of Texas are hell bent on GOP delegates to the National convention going to Senator Taft. That is, the old guard of the party; the fellows who run GOP affairs in the State and put up the money to hold the party together are lined up for the Ohio Senator.

This group has definitely set about attempting to quell the Eisenhower boom in Texas by openly declaring for Taft, and working for his nomination. Since many of the supporters of Eisenhower in Texas come from the Democratic party, this GOP bunch seems destined to success.

This situation is just the reason that The Canyon News has never felt inclined to support the Eisenhower boom. It is a pre-convention fight, and the organization boys are destined to run political affairs of the party in the state convention where the delegates will be elected. We have felt from the start that Eisenhower would not be a strong candidate unless he was willing to return to America and make some definite speeches to clarify his position before the convention is held. This he will not do, if present plans are carried out.

So far as Taft is concerned, we have no definite inclination for or against his candidacy. We have talked with hundreds of local politically minded persons who believe that Taft would be a weak candidate. He is too frank and honest for the average voter, following the present reign of tax corruption in Washington.

We are advised to watch General MacArthur. The General dislikes Eisenhower and will be glad to do anything to defeat him for the nomination, if Eisenhower is really a candidate.

On with the battle. Let the Republicans put out their strongest, most honest and honorable man. We shall support any good man against the President, if he runs, or keeps on running. But we have no inclination to get mixed up with this Republican private fight for the nomination.

Why Not Publish the Names of The Law Breakers in Canyon?

The Canyon News has been criticised locally for having published the names of those engaged in the fight last week when four men are alleged to have attacked a local policeman.

Several years ago we would have rushed out and published all of the lurid details of this affray. Since that time we have changed our minds about such unfortunate affrays.

The time was when we published the names of all divorce cases. But we have been requested so many times to suppress this class of news that we have decided that it is the best policy to avoid publicity in all such cases.

We are convinced that the publication of names of the evil-doers more or less sets them up as local heroes. We feel very sorry with any group of men who allow liquor to get the upper hand of their lives especially when they want to pull off a fight whenever they get a few drinks of liquor under their belts.

However, liquor is legal in the United States. The laws of our land uphold the sale of booze. However, let it be remembered that the laws of the land protect the innocent and the law abiding citizens, as well as those who seek to enforce the laws.

If the publication of the names of those who drink this poison would do any good, we would not hesitate to publish this list. We doubt very much whether any man would be cured of the terrible appetite for booze even by upholding him to the scorn of the community through publication of the list of booze histers.

The same is true of the fast drivers; those who gamble; and the various other kinds of social crimes which prevail in any well organized community.

If we ever find out that the publication of social crimes will help cure the prevailing practice of committing these crimes we shall not hesitate to publish all of the names involved. In the meanwhile, let all of us remember that there is a certain class of news which is not fit to publish.

Secret Service Says There Are 3,629 Threats Against President

The Secret Service reveals that there have been 3, 629 threats on the life of President Truman during the past year. This is an increase of 43% over the previous year.

No wonder Mrs. Truman wishes the President to retire. He lives in constant danger. Perhaps a lot of the so-called threats were those of mere cranks who would gladly eliminate the life of the President if given the opportunity. It would seem that some one has stretched the truth somewhat in saying that 10 threats are made every day upon the life of the President.

Maybe this branch of the service is merely after more of the "easy" money which the President is throwing to the four winds.

Why Thow Away Money Trying To Buy Good Will of Moscow?

Senator Tom Connally has introduced a resolution in Congress to punish nations which seize our citizens. This is a slap at Moscow and one which should have been passed many months ago.

The idea of the United States paying tribute to any nation which arrests our airmen or other citizen is a slap which should not go unpunished. However, so long as the same pussyfoot policy continues in Washington; and so long as we continue to pay, we shall expect to receive the same treatment.

Senator Connally points to the way out. The White House is not likely to accept his idea.

Time to Eliminate the Pesky Fly Before He Multiplies

It is time to start action now in getting ready to handle the common house fly during 1952.

The fly spreads disease throughout the land, and the only safe way to control him is to eliminate him.

Clean Up Campaigns early in the year before fly breeding time will do much toward solving the fly situation.

Canyon has ample city ordinances to keep the town clean. If each and every citizen will do his full job in assisting with the fly problem the population should be greatly reduced during the coming year.

Courts Are Writing the Laws Of the Land; Not the Lawmakers

In spite of what the legislature may say about law, the courts finally write the laws of the state.

We have seen this happen so many times that we have pointed out time and time again that it was of little use for the layman to pick up the law book and say that here is the law. He must search through the various court decisions before he is fully aware of what the courts have said about any particular case.

During the past few days two important decisions have been handed down which will hamper law enforcement.

One decision comes from a District Judge who said that blood tests are barred in determining drunkenness in case of charge against any man for driving while intoxicated. This will bar one of the main sources of evidence of police officers if this decision is allowed to stand.

A second decision comes from the Supreme Court of Texas. This decision says that in case of any person who willingly and knowingly rides with a drunken driver cannot collect accident insurance in case of an accident. In other words, if you get into a car with a person whom you know to be drunk and should he injure you while driving that car you have no recourse on the insurance company or upon the car owner.

Of course any person who rides with a drunken driver should have better sense than to stay in such a car but what if the rider is forced to continue in the car? There would certainly be confusion.

The courts write the laws—not the legislature.

In many instances some hireling writes the laws, not the law makers themselves. For instance, many of the federal regulations are the result of some bright boy who decides what each department will do rather than relying upon the words of Congress.

The recent turmoil in Texas over the car inspection law is another case. The original law comprised two pages; the regulations were expanded into a fair sized pamphlet, which was later revised through the objection of the public.

Unless you know what the courts have ruled in certain cases, you know nothing about the laws of the state or the federal government.

No War With Russia in Near Future Is Good News If True

The words of Judge W. N. Stokes in Canyon last week that he could see no opportunity for war between Russia and America in the near future was good news to all of us. However, the Judge let it be clear that this was his own opinion. Probably he was right in declaring that it would have taken America 20 years to recover if we had been damaged to the extent that Germany imposed damage on Russian industries.

On the other hand, Judge Stokes overlooked the present situation in Russia where three million Germans are working as slave laborers; where German scientists are working for nothing; where several million Japs are held in labor camps; where the people are all working for the state, rather than working for themselves. There are no labor unions in Russia to gouge the state; there are no property owners, except the state; there is little demand for individual consumer goods.

The question is: Can this kind of labor produce on the same basis as a free open market where every person is free to labor for himself and to produce for himself? America believes that there is no comparison between slave and free labor. Russia believes that her system will outlive and outlast the American system!

While Judge Stokes would never cease in the preparedness program, let it be remembered that this kind of theory was the thing which infested the nation before the outbreak of World War II. While we were thanking the Almighty for two oceans as a source of preparedness, the Japs were getting ready to cross the Pacific in the air, and the Germans were preparing to cross the Atlantic under the water. Fortunately both failed.

Frankly, we have been of the same opinion for several months as Judge Stokes holds, but we are holding our breath as to the actual developments.

Soup Kitchens Appear To Feed Auto Workers Out of Work

A throw back of depression days is seen in Detroit where 150,000 former automobile workers are forced on the soup line.

These workers are out of jobs, not because of their own choice, but because of government regulations which forced them out of their former jobs. OPS said that the people should not have shiny new cars. Too much vital materials went into these cars. It is unpatriotic for people to buy cars who wanted to buy cars. At the same time, thousands of additional workers were put on the government payroll to see to it that no government regulations were broken.

It's a mess—a terrible mess, when American workers who want to hold their jobs are forced out by government decree. If this so-called vital material is being used to win a war, it would be different. As it is we are not fighting a war in Korea, but a mere police delaying action, in which every man who died or is wounded is the victim of an undeclared war which Russia declared, and no one is doing anything about punishing those who brought on the war, so says the White House.

What a mess; what a terrible mess.

Drew Pearson Predicts That Sen. Connally Will Be Re-elected

Drew Pearson, of prediction fame, spoke the other night in Vernon. He predicted that Senator Tom Conna would be re-elected by the people of Texas. Furthermo, he predicted that General Eisenhower would return to America in May to actively become a candidate for the presidency.

In the meanwhile a fortune teller in California looked into his crystal bowl and predicted that the Republican nominee would be Taft; the Democratic nominee would be Truman; and that Truman would win in November.

All that we have to say is that we are and have been fearful of the latter race, between Taft and Truman, and have ourselves predicted just this thing.

So far as the Connally-Daniel campaign is concerned, the course of future politics will determine this race. Connally is regaining lost ground by his ardent anti-Truman declarations in the Senate.

A drop of one-half of one per cent in retail food prices in the first half of January has been reported by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. The biggest decline was in egg prices, which dropped 13.5 per cent during the period, mainly because of seasonal factors. The Bureau put retail food prices at 231.8 per cent of 1935-39 prices.

Lions Hear Talk On Importance Of Correct Dress

Canyon Lions heard the female version of the importance of clothes, both for the male and female, at their weekly luncheon Wednesday. The program was given by Miss Barbara Gosford, a goodwill representative of Revlon Company. She was accompanied by Ruth Cross, Dean of Women at West Texas State College.

Miss Gosford said the women's dress can be one of the greatest assets that they have. She explained that beauty is the result of nature and there is nothing that can be done about it. A great-degree of attractiveness can be obtained through good grooming and good taste in neatly worn clothing.

"A college degree for a girl," said Miss Gosford, "is merely a permit to the back door of a business. The college degree, combined with a correct knowledge of how to dress is a permit to the front door of the business,"

One of the worst grooming points of a man shows up in badly kept nails, the speaker commented. She remarked that well kept nails were not necessarily the sign of a sissy. This part of the man's grooming is vastly important because hands are so often on display.

Another factor showing up the man's inability to dress properly is the color combination worn, the speaker said. The attractiveness of an expensive suit is often spoiled by the dress that accompanies it. An unharmonious tie, an off-color shirt, wrong color socks or shoes will completely spoil the attraction of the most expensive suit, Miss Gosford said.

Lion's visitor for the program and luncheon was Robert Johnson.

NEW LABELING OF MEDICINES

Under provisions of the new Durham-Humphrey Amendment to the Food and Drug Act, the Commission will divide all drugs for human use into two classes — those restricted for use only by prescription and those that need not be limited in distribution. This will be accomplished by a new method of labeling and "will establish control not only over the barbiturates, commonly called 'Sleeping tablets' but also from the whole area of drugs used in self-treatment of venereal disease."

A growing impression that some big air crashes may be due to sabotage is not borne out by official investigations looking into that angle.

An ordinance defining nuisances; prohibiting nuisances; providing for the abatement of the nuisances; providing a penalty and declaring an emergency.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CANYON:

SECTION 1: Whatever is dangerous to human health, whatever renders the ground, water, air or food a hazard or injury to human health, constitutes a nuisance.

SECTION 2: The following acts or conditions are specifically declared to be nuisances:

(a) Spitting upon any sidewalk or on the floor or wall of any public building.

(b) The accumulation of water in which mosquito larvae breed or are likely to breed.

(c) Disposal or accumulation of any foul, decaying or putrescent substance or other offensive material dangerous to public health in or upon any public lot, street or highway; or the escape of any gases to such an extent that the same or any of them shall by reason of offensive odors become a source of discomfort to ordinary persons living or passing in the vicinity.

(d) The deposit or accumulation of manure unless it be in a fly proof receptacle.

(e) The deposit of garbage in any but fiy proof, water tight receptacles.

(f) Unrestrained growth of weeds.

SECTION 3: It shall be unlawful for any owner, lessee or occupant or any agent, servant, representative, or employee of any such owner, lessee or occupant of any lot or parcel of land situated within the City to allow or permit a nuisance upon such lot or parcel of land.

SECTION 4: If any person within the limits of the City shall permit or suffer on his premises of which he may be the agent or occupant a nuisance, the municipal health officer shall order the owner or occupant thereof to remove same at his expense and within a time not to exceed twenty-four hours or such reasonable time as may be specified in a written notice issued by the health officer. The notice shall be served by the health officer or a police officer by delivering a copy thereof to the owner, occupant or agent of such property. If the owner of the property is unknown or absent, then the health officer shall post a written notice upon the property or premises setting forth that unless the nuisance is abated within such time as may be specified by the health officer then the health officer will cause the abatement of the nuisance at the expense of the owner. If the owner, occupant or agent shall fail to comply with requirements of said notice, then the health department shall proceed to have the nuisance removed or abated from said lot or parcel of land and shall report the cost thereof to the governing body for assessment in accordance with the revised civil statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.

SECTION 5: Each of the provisions of this ordinance are severable and, if any provision shall be declared to be invalid, the remaining provisions shall not be affected, but shall remain in full force and effect.

SECTION 6: Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not exceeding $200.00. Each day an offense continues to exist shall constitute a separate violation.

SECTION 7: The fact that the maintenance of public nuisances threatens the public welfare and that the prohibition of such nuisances and abatement of such nuisances is deemed essential and urgently required constitutes an emergency and requires that this ordinance be passed as an emergency measure on the day of its introduction.

INTRODUCED AND UNANIMOUSLY PASSED as an emergency measure on this 18 day of Feb., 1952.

Observe Silver Wedding Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. EUGENE FRISCHE

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Frische of St. Mary's Parish, Umbarger, celebrated their Silver Wedding Anniversary, Friday, February 22.

Preceding the 8 o'clock High Mass offered by Father Marthaler, the couple renewed their marriage vows. During Mass, they knelt on a white velvet-covered prie-dieu, which was appointed with a bow of silver ribbon. The family pews were marked with bows of silver ribbon.

The High Altar was decorated with yellow gladiolus in gold vases and the side altars had bouquets of white and pink snapdragons.

The Senior Choir, of which Mrs. Frische is a member, sang the Mass. "Pie Pelicani" was sung at the offertory. Mass servers were Gotfried Frische, son of the honored couple, Carol Lindeman, Bernard Grabber and Lewie Raef, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wolfe of Hereford were their attendants.

Mrs. Wolfe wore a floor length gown of green net over green satin, designed with a full skirt, basque waist and short lace balero. Her headdress was a bandeau of small flowers. She wore a rhinestone necklace and her corsage was pink carnations. Matching lace mitts completed her costume.

Mrs. Frische was attired in a floor length gown of lavender lace over dusty rose satin. It was princess style with three-quarter length sleeves. The front of the waist featured tucks and self-covered buttons. Her headdress was of silver net, studded with rhinestones and tiny silver leaves on either side. Her corsage was pink carnations and she wore a rose colored rhinestone necklace and short matching mitts.

After Mass, breakfast was served in the Frische home to the honorees and the attendants, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schenk and sons of Scotland, Texas.

At noon, dinner was served to Father Marthaler, the Frische family, Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe, the Schenk family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bracht and family, Mr. and Mrs. Reeves Donnell, and Mr. and Mrs. Marion Majors.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon in the Frische home, a reception for relatives and friends was given. Approximately 175 guests were in attendance. The serving table was laid with a white linen cloth which Mrs. Frische brought back from Germany on a visit about two years ago.

The table was centered with a three-tiered cake topped with a miniature bride and groom standing under an archway of lace decorated with tiny silver leaves and silver pearls. The cake was also decorated with white roses and tiny silver pearls.

The entertaining rooms were decorated with bouquets of pink and white roses and tiny silver pearls.

In the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Frische were host and hostess to the parish with a dance in the Parish Hall.

Mr. Frische came to Umbarger from Langenburg, Germany, in 1924. In 1927, he returned to Germany to be married. He was married to Miss Mary Frances Jarschenski in Langenburg on February 22, 1927, and about a month later they left for America to make their home in Umbarger.

Mr. and Mrs. Frische have three sons and three daughters, all of whom were present at the celebration. The sons are Eugene, Jr., Carl, and Gotfried; and the daughters are Mesdames J. R. Stock, LaVerne Schenk and Rosalie, all of St. Mary's Parish. They also have three grandsons, Gregory and Arnold Stock, and Louis Schenk.

Assisting with the house party were Mesdames Henry Bracht, Reeves Donnell, and Marion Majors.

Small Yellow Grub May Teach Value Of Mystery Vitamin

AUSTIN, Tex.—A little yellow grub less than an inch long may help science learn the value of carnitine, a substance in the flesh of animals and men which has been a complete mystery since it was chemically identified a half-century ago.

The clue which may solve the mystery was revealed when an entomologist and three biochemists from the University of Illinois reported that vitamin B-T and carnitine are identical.

Vitamin B-T gets its name from the mealworm whose technical name is "Tenebrio." The vitamin is essential to life for this grub, or beetle larva, but no other living things—insects, animals, or plants—suffer when it is left out of their diets.

With the discovery that vitamin B-T and carnitine are the same thing, science now has a test specimen for study of carnitine.

Prof. G. S. Fraenkel, physiologist and entomologist, discoverer in 1947 of vitamin B-T, said that the new finding "cannot but have important repercussions in biological and medical research.

"It appears probable that a compound of such high activity functions in an enzyme system of vital importance. A compound of such regular occurence must be present to some purpose. It must have a vital function."

Housewives know mealworms as the little yellow or brown larvae sometimes found in flour or cereals. They know carnitine, also, since it composed about 2 per cent of meat extract.

Apparently animals and men manufacture carnitine within themselves. The great amount of it found in muscle may make knowledge about it of considerable value, particularly to non-healthy individuals in whom the natural process of producing this material may be affected.

This discovery is the world's second showing a vitamin as a previously known substance. The first example was in 1937 when a growth factor for animals was shown to be nicotinic acid.

Self-Lighting Cigarette Seen In Near Future

FRIBOURG, Switzerland —The old ice-breaker, "Say, buddy, got a match?" may be a thing of the past. A Swiss chemical manufacturer has announced invention of a self-lighting cigarette.

It works this way:

One end of the cigarette is saturated with a secret chemical which sets tobacco afire when rubbed against the side of the package. It makes no flame and there is no need to puff while lighting up.

Ernest Heimo, the inventor, says it works on both cigars and cigarettes and several firms are bidding for formula rights.

Worrying Parents Urged To Have More Children

CHICAGO—Here is a "sure cure" for worry-bird parents of an only child: "Have at least two more children, preferably girls."

It was suggested by a survey of letters received by The Parents' Consultation Service from parents in 36 states and the Territory of Hawaii.

Of the parents who queried the Service during a 12-month period, only about five per cent stated that they had three or more children. Twenty-nine per cent reported having two children, while more than 49 per cent indicated that they had one child. The remainder of those writing for advice failed to specify the number of children in their family.

About 54 per cent of the children involved were identified by the writers as boys, in comparison to the 37 per cent who were identified as girls. The sex of the remaining nine per cent was not given by the correspondents.

In connection with the survey, Dr. Martin L. Reymert, Ph.D., Consultant for the Service and Director of The Mooseheart Laboratory for Child Research at Mooseheart, Illinois, points out:

"The fact that parents of only children, particularly mothers, probably have more time in which to write to the Service, should also be considered in evaluating the emotional attitudes of these parents."

False Fire Alarm by Man Seeking 'Nice, Warm' Spot

SCRANTON, Pa.—Firemen hastened to answer an alarm in downtown Scranton. They found Edward Humphrey, 40, leaning unsteadily against the box.

Deputy Fire Chief Martin Lahey demanded: "Why did you ring the alarm?" Lahey said that Humphrey replied that he "wanted to get into a nice, warm place."

Lahey suggested that Humphrey should have gone into the taproom on a nearby corner.

"I'll have you understand," Humphrey then answered, "that I never enter such places."

Humphrey was later charged with intoxication and ringing a false fire alarm.

A meter is 3.37 inches longer than a yard.

Only Sharpest Soldiers Make Honor Guard

WASHINGTON—The sharpest soldiers in SHAPE are found in the ranks of the 557th Infantry Rifle Platoon.

A separate unit officially designated as the European Command Honor Guard, the 557th Infantry Rifle Platoon is a top flight outfit famous for its pride and "esprit de corps."

Original members of the honor guard were hand picked from the best troops in Europe at the time of its activation four years ago. Replacements have been selected on the basis of continuing high standards.

Requirements

Candidates for membership in the unit are weighed for size, mentality and character. They must be at least 5 feet, 9½ inches tall, have an Army General Classification Test score of 90 or above and be of "good" character.

In addition, they have to be able to set an example of neatness and military bearing both on and off duty. Honor guardsmen must be American soldiers at their best.

The 557th is distinctive in its uniform as well. Members supplement the standard olive-drab jacket and trousers with a white scarf and lanyard, cut down ox-blood cavalry boots with white lacings, brass-studded pistol belts and yellow cotton or dark brown leather gloves.

The unit has three types of headgear. One is a chrome-plated helmet, another is a green helmet-liner which carries the European Command patch and the words, "557th Honor Guard," and the third is the general issue olive-drab service cap.

Originally designated as the 370th Infantry Honor Guard, the 557th was formed from component elements of the 370th and 371st Armored Infantry Battalions.

Intensive Training

After 12 weeks of intensive training, the unit was transferred from its activation base at Grafenwohr, Germany, to Munich and its name was changed to the 7777th Infantry Platoon Honor Guard. After a subsequent move, April 15, 1948, to Frankfurt, the unit became the official Honor Guard of European Command Headquarters.

In its official capacity, the 557th Infantry Platoon (Separate) Honor Guard—the unit's name after December, 1949—has appeared before all the high-ranking officers and dignitaries who have visited the headquarters.

To keep in readiness for their "VIP" appearances, guard members receive 44 hours of training weekly. This includes seven hours spent on inspections, two hours for ceremonies, 15 hours of drilling and 20 hours divided among other military subjects.

The average age of the honor guards is 24 years and about a third of them are World War II veterans. Regardless of his experience, however, it takes the average "recruit" three months to learn to perform all of the guard's drills without flaw.

Despite its relatively short life, the 557th Infantry Rifle Platoon has become a tradition in the European Command and the newly-formed Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers in Europe.

Sword Swallowing Exhibition Turns Out Poor Performance

GREEN BAY, Wis.—A 22 year old inmate of the state reformatory hospital has lost all ambition to be a sword swallower.

While waiting in the kitchen to carry food to patients, the youth was describing the art of sword swallowing to the kitchen crew, saying that he had once swallowed a three-foot knife and a neon tube at a carnival.

Describing his technique, he lowered the handle of a nine and one-half inch table knife into his throat. At that moment another inmate hurried into the kitchen, accidentally jostling the performer and causing him to loose his grip on the tip of the knife.

The youth was so embarrassed at his poor performance that he did not report the incident until a companion urged him to see the hospital nurse.

Following an X-ray, the youth was rushed to Bellin memorial hospital where Doctor Wilson Troup removed the knife with a bronchoscope.

Operation Rotation Takes Two Days for Completion

WITH THE FIRST MARINE AIRCRAFT WING IN KOREA —More than 1,350 Marine infantrymen were rotated from the front lines and replaced with fresh troops in a gigantic two-day airlift.

The replacements were flown from a South Korean port city by six big Douglas R5D transports of the First Marine Air Wing. As the planes dumped their loads of new combat troops at the front, homeward bound veterans climbed aboard for the first leg of their trip to the States.

To make the switchover in so short a time, some pilots flew as many as 12 hours in one day.

The Hawaiian Islands were formerly the Sandwich Islands.

ARE YOU one of STALIN'S PUPPETS?

Marionettes and puppets are fun for kids but when grown people begin to act like puppets it's dangerous.

Puppets don't think for themselves. They do and say just as their master instructs.

Many of us today are being puppets for Mr. Stalin and not even knowing it.

If you spread rumors about other people's religion, race, or culture—you're a puppet. If you refuse to accept people on their individual value and insist on classifying everybody into groups—you're a puppet.

Communism and Uncle Joe thrive on dissension — Management against Labor—Christian against Jew and White against Negro. Don't be one of Uncle Joe's puppets. Think your own thoughts, say what you think and make sure to judge each person individually and not as a group!

Mexico Vacation Seen by Linguists

Dr. Ples Harper, head of the modern languages department at West Texas State, announced this week that the annual field trip sponsored by the Spanish Club is slated for March 9-16.

Plans have been completed for thirty students to leave WT on Sunday, March 9, to visit Eagle Pass, Texas, and three cities of Mexico which are of historical, industrial, and agricultural interest.

That night will be spent in Eagle Pass and from there the students will cross the border into Mexico stopping first in Saltillo, capitol of the state of Coahuila which has a population of 50,000.

This city, located on a mesa, is the chief commercial and industrial city of the state and is the location of the state university.

After lunch of the third day the students will drive to Torreon, one hundred and fifty miles from Saltillo, which is one of the richest agricultural sections in all Mexico. Torreon has a population of 76,000 and is the proud possessor of cotton, flour, and iron mills besides an American owned smelter which is one of the most modern of its kind.

Founded on a ranch known as El Coyote, in 1887, the town is famous for its commerce and industry, its airport, the finest in the western world, and its modern athletic plant.

On the fifth day the group will go to Durango, the town of sunshine, which has many copper, silver and gold mines. Two days will be spent in Durango which, like the other places of interest, holds much history in its ancient buildings.

The party will leave Durango following the same route on the return trip. They will arrive back on the West Texas campus Sunday afternoon, March 16.

A few vacancies on the bus are still available. Those persons interested should contact Dr. Harper at once. It will be necessary for all persons taking the trip to have typhoid shots before the starting date.

THIEF LEAVES TRAIL

New York. — A cop, spotting a broken store window, followed a trail of coins until he came upon the "burglar," a 9-year-old boy, who was carrying a bag full of coins which were dropping out one by one. The boy had smashed the window with a hammer and taken $150, mostly in small change from a March of Dimes "wishing well."

Ellis Arnall, new Price Control Administrator, is far from certain that the powers he holds will not soon be weakened. Leaders in Congress are giving thought to changes in the price formula if the White House arranges for wage increases without permitting industry to pass along the added costs in price increases.

Bill Wilson Talks On Edison at the Rotary Club Lunch

Bill Wilson, head of the Physics Department of West Texas State, drew a lesson from the life of Thomas Edison at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday.

Edison left school because his principal was a "little off the beam," stated the speaker. At the age of 9 Edison was reading the text on General Science which was in use at that time.

Edison was a good business man, and most of his inventories had commercial value.

Mr. Wilson brought equipment from the college laboratory to demonstrate the work of Edison in electricity. He showed four examples of early electric lamps which had been used in the earlier periods. From these were developed the radio tubes and various other electrical appliances.

"From where do the scientists and scientists come?" was a prevailing question which Mr. Wilson answered by referring to the work in laboratories which had been established by large industrial firms. Boys with inquisitive minds and who were intelligent stand a good chance to secure positions in these training schools. A wide range of interest is needed, not alone in scientific lines, but in all phases of life.

Six visitors were present: Ray Eastland, Leon Dupuy, A. L. Overton, Van H. Allm, E. R. Blair, Jr., and Dr. J. H. Brown, all of Amarillo.

Dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Minnow Raising for Bait New Industry in Randall County

Minnow spawning tanks for live fish bait form the latest industrial addition to this area. The project, located approximately one mile south of town on highway 87, is being operated under the joint ownership of Cecil Simms, B. E. McCormick and L. F. Brandon. Construction of the project started last August and is expected to be completed in about a month.

Two wells provide water for the tanks that will total 22 by the time the work has been finished. Surprisingly enough the two wells that pump the water for the tanks are very shallow. The deepest being 40 feet even though the drillers struck water only nine feet down. This well is pumped by a five horsepower electric motor that draws a 4-inch stream. The other well is only four feet deep and uses a war surplus centrifugal pump. It is powered by a 3-horsepower electric motor that pumps a 3-inch stream.

Although the partners in the business plan to concentrate on two kinds of minnows, Simms says they will also experiment with several different kinds of native species. The minnows to be used for commercial purposes at first are Golden Shiners and Fat Heads. Some other species, including the Zebra minnow, may be added later.

From time to time the water in the tanks is fertilized. The owners also plan to give the minnows a diet of milo maise, soy bean meal and meat scraps.

There are two ways of arriving at the count of minnows sold, McCormick said. One is to weigh them and the other is by measurement in certain containers known to hold a certain number of minnows of uniform size. Either method is fairly accurate and Simms pointed out the fact that their prices were also in line with other minnow spawning spots of the nation.

There is no other industry of this type in the immediate vicinity. This is rather surprising in that the Plains offer such vast advantages for the enterprise. The lack of trees on the Plains is one factor that will help the business succeed. Where there are no trees there are fewer birds and insects to contaminate the water and destroy the minnows.

Then, too, in many places as this one south of town, water is shallow and can be pumped economically. The nearest competition for this business is the minnow spawning tanks at Sulphur, Oklahoma.

Cecil Simms has delved rather deeply into the technical aspects of the industry and learned a great deal about the minnows. He mentioned two stages of the minnows and explained them as being the eye stage and the fry stage. The eye stage is when the minnow is so small that the eye is the most prominent part of it. Then when it has reached a more mature period it is in the fry stage. When they reach this stage they are separated from those in the eye stage.

The separation process is done with various sizes of screen wire. The little minnows go through the mesh wire to get away from the larger minnows that appear to have cannibal tendencies. This process is effective in screening the minnows down to a uniform size for each tank and also makes the system of weighing them more accurate. Six brood tanks hold the minnows until the fry stage is reached. At this stage they are transplanted to the growing ponds.

During all these stages the water in which the minnows are kept is fertilized and the minnows are fed. The minnow eggs hatch in a few days after laying. After they are hatched, only a few weeks are required before the minnows are large enough for transplanting.

Buffs Trounce Tempe; Take Top Slot Border Conference Race; Tech Next

One obstacle lies between the West Texas State College Buffaloes and the coveted Border Conference Championship in basketball. That obstacle is the Red Raiders of Texas Tech. The Buffs defeated Tech here January 24. The Millermen narrowed down the field and cinched a Border Conference tie for themselves by trouncing Arizona State College of Tempe 75 to 62 in the new Field House Thursday night. If the Buffs can stretch their string of victories to cover the Red Raider game there Monday night, they will be the 1952 Border Conference Champs.

In the event they drop the game and the New Mexico Aggies move up by winning the balance of their games, the Herd and the Aggies will share top honors in the Border Conference. The lone defeat for the Buffs this season was at the hands of the New Mexico Aggies.

Troy Burrus was high point man Thursday night with 24 points to his credit. He took up the slack in the last half of the game that was created when his brother, Austell, was taken out of the game because of illness. Austell had kept his illness a secret until the half mark in the game in spite of the fact that he went into it with a temperature of 102 and two shots of penicillin.

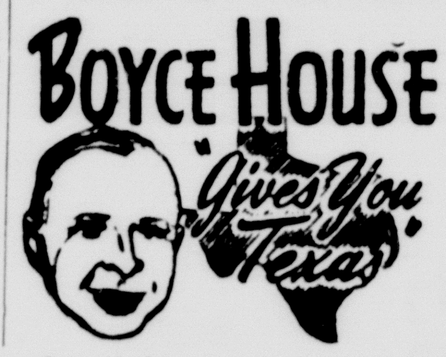
The Buffaloes were cold at the beginning of the game and as a result, trailed the Tempe quintet by a score of 16-20 at the end of the first quarter. Near the end of the second quarter the Herd tied up the score and before the quarter ended they held a two point lead.

After the half the Sun Devils were getting all the breaks by snatching the Buff rebounds. It was in this quarter that Troy Burrus poured in 17 of his 24 points and by the time it ended the Buffs held a five point edge over the Sun Devils. They added another eight points to that lead during the fourth and final period of play.

On the scoring ladder Burrus was one rung above Harold Robinson who racked up 16 points for the Herd. Over on Tempe's end of the court the high point man was John Ruel who gave the Sun Devils 14 of their 62 points.

In the event the Buffs come through the Border Conference winners they will represent this conference in the NCAA playoffs at Kansas City. Opposing the Border Conference team at Kansas City will be the St. Louis University team.

This team qualified for the tournament by defeating Houston to win the Missouri Valley Conference.



One of the greatest statesmen in the history of the Southwest was James Stephen Hogg, who was governor of Texas many years ago. In the 50th anniversary issue of the Wood County Democrat some years back, my good friend, the late E. S. Shoaf, able editor and civic-minded Texan, published an interesting article about Hogg.

Gov. Hogg lived in Wood County and in Tyler and the article was an interview with Col. T. N. Jones, who assisted in managing Hogg's campaigns for attorney general and governor:

Col. Jones said, "I might tell you about one of the qualities of Governor Hogg that was little discussed in his lifetime. He was a great Christian and lived a life wholly consistent with the Ten Commandments and the teachings of Christ. I would like to call attention to two incidents that occurred which demonstrated conclusively his views. One of them was told to me and the other occurred in my presence.

"Sometime during Mr. Hogg's administration as attorney general, a lawyer left Tyler Saturday afternoon for Austin, expecting to see Hogg Sunday morning. He communicated with the attorney general on Sunday and Mr. Hogg asked him what it was he wanted to discuss. When the attorney general was told that the lawyer had a matter of business that needed attention, Mr. Hogg told him that it would have to be put off until Monday morning. In spite of insistence on the part of the lawyer that he would have to be back in Tyler Monday morning, the governor-to-be refused to discuss the business with him and made the appointment for Monday.

"In 1892 I actively assisted in managing and directing Governor Hogg's campaign against George Clark for the democratic nomination. There was never a more bitter campaign conducted in the state. At that time we did not have a primary system. The nominating convention was held in Houston. Some 30 or 40 Hogg delegates from different sections of the state had gathered in the Hogg headquarters in a hotel. About 8:30 Sunday morning, he came in and after shaking hands with each of us said: 'Gentlemen, there will be no politics discussed here today.'

"We did not see him again until a few minutes before 11 o'clock when he walked in with his hat in his hand and said 'My friends, let's all go to preaching.' About 25 of us joined him and we all went to church. We didn't see him any more until Monday morning."

MUCH EASIER

A home economist from the nearby state university was giving a cooking demonstration before a group of farm women.

"Take an egg," she explained, "and carefully perforate the basal end. Duplicate the process in the apex. Then applying the lips to one of the apertures, by forcibly exhaling the breath discharge the shell of its contents."

Eighty-five-year-old Aunt Cassie turned to a neighbor. "Beats all how different these new-fangled ways is," she whispered. "When I was a gal, we just poked a hole in each end—and blowed."

James H. Robinson, preacher: "India is not anti-American . . . it is just that we do not understand each other."

Turbo-propeller planes 5 to 10 years away, experts say.

Just Between You, Me and . . . the Gatepost

If these lines seem more burnished and a little fresher just remember, they're heading the first column to be written in this space from the new editorial office. The balcony, we prefer to call it. A recent remark was overheard that the new addition was made to separate the men from the boys. The new addition has already given birth to a new feeling of happiness throughout the entire organization.

Among the Saturday morning visitors to view the additional office space to The News were: W. H. Upchurch, Houston Bright, Toney Brown, Harley Burrus, and Mrs. Clarence Thompson. All-in-all Saturday was a big day because that's the day we moved into the balcony. The men downstairs were happy because now they won't be tripping over our chairs and desks as they make their way between the aisles of the machines.

The Chamber of Commerce is supposed to know all, see all and tell all about the locality in which it presides. There are times in which this is simple. There are other times when it's quite difficult. Recently Cecil Massey had a letter from a 7th grade student in Dihall, Texas. This youngster wanted a sample of the soil from this area. This request was easily complied with.

Last summer there was a request that was something of a puzzler. It was from a German boy who was coming to Canyon as an exchange student. He wanted to know something of the general nature of the people in Canyon. This request was more difficult because it covered a much broader scope than merely sampling up a bit of soil and sending it off. It's really unfortunate that you can't bottle up a sample of hospitality and send it off as easily as you can a bit of soil.

C. A. Murray, professor of mathematics and head of that department at West Texas State College, dropped by The News office Friday afternoon. We got into a discussion as to what day it was, that was February 22, George Washington's birthday. Murray said that he had heard it slightly jumbled and come out George Berthington's Washday. The longer you think about that switch, the more possibility you see in its occurrence.

Speaking of Washington reminds us of the tale about his flinging a dollar across the Potomac River. That is probably a record distance for a dollar. Today most people can't get one past the counter of the dime store.

Although a cold wave dropped temperatures a bit Saturday, Friday was a pleasantly warm and sunny day. In fact it was so much like spring that Dr. Ples Harper looked very much in line as he puttered about watering his lawn. Yard work was done all over town and in many instances neighbors leaned on their hoes and rakes and pleasantly chatted with each other. Life was a bubbling thing. Trees were putting out feelers for the first green leaves of spring and the weatherman was predicting the cold wave that really came on Saturday.

Clark Jarnagin, the 1952 president of the Chamber of Commerce, got himself a little publicity in the magazine called West Texas Today. The magazine is the official publication of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Other local officials of the Chamber of Commerce whose names were mentioned were: W. W. Sternenberg, Cliff Mlinar, James L. Cole, Cecil Massey, Emmitt Smith and E. E. Davis. Bob Bellah, Dr. Charles Nester, Charles Donnell, Clarence Eugene Thompson, Clay Cooper, and A. G. Kieselbach were also mentioned.

The Randall County Junior Livestock Association will hold its annual stock show here next Saturday, March 1st. Plans are being made for bigger and better shows by this organization. At present they're meeting a little opposition in spots and this has prevented the organization from having its own building for this year's show. The problems should be worked out in time for the organization to build and have their own location for next year's show. The show this year will be at the city barn with the following sale being held wherever and however the weather permits.

Nobody has contributed a joke for the column this week, so we have to fall back on an oldie. It seems that a country boy who had only heard about indoor swimming pools, was finally getting to make a trip to town. When he got there he headed into the first pool hall he found. On the way home he complained to his father. "Them city fellers was playin' marbles on tables and using sticks for shootin' taws. They didn't have no pool atall. The only water they had was in a bowl in a little back room and it just run for a little while when you pulled that lever above it.

Soldier in Korea Desires To Know His G. I. Benefits

Hubert O. Drake, a graduate of Canyon High School and West Texas State College, recently had a letter published in an Amarillo paper. The letter concerned the rights of the Korean veteran, a subject that is something of a problem for officials at this time.

Pfc. Drake desired to know what G. I. benefits he could expect and whether or not he could have a house built on the G. I. plan while he is serving in Korea. He stated specifically what he could do and wanted to know what government help he could expect.

His desire to build was for the security of his parents and his younger brother. He mentioned the possibility of his becoming a battle casualty and said that the service life insurance he carried would more than take care of the house payments.

Drake was in the local National Guard Company here before joining the army. At present he is serving with a Field Artillery Battery in the 3rd Infantry Division in northern Korea.

NEW GI BILL OF RIGHTS

A bill has been introduced in Congress which would entitle veterans of Korean action to one and one-half days of free schooling for each day of service. The maximum would be thirty-six months, enough time to get a college degree. Students would be allowed to change courses only once, but could not study vocational or recreational subjects, could not enroll in schools held subversive or if it did not have at least one-fourth non-veteran students. The new bill is an effort to eliminate some of the abuses of the present G. I. Bill of Rights.

INVENTORIES

U. S. business concerns piled up almost ten billion dollars in additional stocks during 1951, according to the Commerce Department. Inventories, at the end of December, 1951, aggregated $69,400,000,000, compared with $59,400,000,000 the year before. Manufacturers accounted for almost all of the increase, with a jump of $8,700,000,000 during the year in their inventories.

FORESTS

Forty states, Puerto Rico and Alaska, will receive $13,947,027 as their share of national forest receipts during the fiscal year 1951, according to the Agriculture Department. The shares represent 25 per cent of forest service, receipts from the sale of timber, grazing fees and special land leases in the national forests.

MANPOWER NEEDS

Manpower needs during the next two years will be increased by an estimated 3,500,000, according to Maurice J. Tobin, Secretary of Labor, to a total labor force in the United States of approximately 68,000,000.

"Why not a PARENT*-training program?"

My father wants me to be President! Maybe he isn't serious but I'm sure he wants me to grow up to be a good citizen. Pop is certainly not setting me a very good example.

The other day I heard him tell Mom that he had turned a man down for a job in his office because he was of a different religion. Mom's just as bad. I heard her tell my sister not to play with the little girl next door because she isn't as good as we are. What's this business all about? Where I came from they told me everybody was free and equal.

I think if Pop and Mom want me to grow up to be a happy, decent human being they had better sharpen up. Everybody talks about child training . . . I really think we need a Parent Training program too!

Don't get me wrong. I love my Mom and Pop, but I'm afraid they just don't think. Prejudice can hurt everybody — even the people who spread it!

Say, do you think I'd have a chance at the Presidency?

Airmen Assist March of Dimes

The local March of Dimes Fund was recently increased $189.88 by the 3469th School Squadron at West Texas State College. Captain Adrian W. Buckingham, commanding officer of the school squadron, informed Cecil Massey, chairman of the March of Dimes Fund, of the donation in a letter written February 19.

The money, which was a contribution from all the members of the 3469th School Squadron, was deposited to the March of Dimes account in the First National Bank of Canyon.

"One of the factors that makes this donation so important," Massey said, "is the fact that the boys of the Air Force are only here for a short period of time attending school."

HEARTY LAUGH

An old couple were listening to a broadcast service, the husband sitting back smoking his pipe, his wife in deep concentration. Half an hour passed in silence. Then, suddenly, the old man laughed.

"Sandy," exclaimed his wife, "why this merriment on the Sabbath?"

"Ah," said Sandy, "the parson's just announced the collection and here I am safe at home."

HE'LL DO

He was asking for the hand of the wealthy man's daughter and certainly displayed assurance and confidence.

"You want to marry my girl, Doris?" said the surprised parent. "Why, man, you were caddying for me only a year or so back."

"Oh, there's not much in that," said the applicant. "I don't see why a poor golfer shouldn't make a decent sort of a father-in-law."

COMPROMISE

A girl dismissed her sweetheart with the statement that she could not think of marrying him until he had a few thousand dollars.

A few months later she met him and asked him how much he had saved up.

"Thirty-five dollars," was the reply.

"Well," she said with a blush, "I guess that's near enough."

How to get what you want and need in a truck

"Dodge 'Job-Rated' Trucks are the best we've ever used!"

. . . says PAUL CRUCE,
Cruce Butane Co., Tulsa, Okla.

"We do a lot of driving on narrow roads, in and out of driveways, in small yards and other tight spots. We need trucks that are real easy to handle, so we switched to Dodge. They'll turn on a dime!

"We service oil wells, too, and that's the toughest off-the-road hauling there is. We need plenty of pulling power. For mud and heavy pulling, Dodge 'Job-Rated' trucks are dependable and economical to operate."

CRUCE

INFLAMMABLE TULSA

SUPPOSE that you need a 1½- or 2-ton truck. Naturally, you'll want one that costs less to run. You'll want one that's engineered to last for years and years. Above all, you'll want a truck that fits your job to a "T".

That calls for a truck in which every unit that moves the load is engineered to meet the most severe operating conditions—one in which every unit that supports the load is engineered to provide the strength and capacity needed. What's more, both load-moving and load-supporting units must be engineered to work together.

The way to get such a truck is to see us about a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck—one that's factory-engineered to your kind of work!

Yes . . . when it comes to your hauling job, you'll find everything you want and need in a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck!

Time-saving performance. Low loading height on 1½- and 2-ton models and hinged center sections on stake bodies make loading easier. 5-speed transmission available on most models for more power, speed.

Power with economy. The big high-compression engine of a Dodge "Job-Rated" 1½- or 2-ton truck operates with outstanding economy. You get chrome-plated top piston rings, and exhaust valve seat inserts.

Easy handling. Exceptional handling and steering ease is made possible by wide front tread and short wheelbase. Thanks to shorter turning diameters, you can turn sharper either right or left—back into tight places easier.

SIEVE?

The barber had cut him, nicked him, and gashed him.

"Give me a glass of water please," gapsed the victim.

"You aren't going to faint, I hope?" asked the barber in alarm.

"No," replied the victim, "I just want to see if my mouth still holds water."

HE'LL FIND OUT

A neighbor tried to comfort the deserted husband.

"It was a terrific shock to hear that Smithers ran away with your wife. I'd always thought he was your best friend."

"He is," replied the husband with a happy smile, "only he doesn't know it yet."

New Discovery Should Provide More Titanium

NEW YORK—A young Ph.D. candidate at the Columbia University School of Engineering has developed what may prove to be the answer to one of America's urgent defense problems in metallurgy—the problem of extracting titanium economically in large quantities.

Government authorities have stated that U.S. armed forces need at least 10 times as much titanium as this country now produces.

Titanium, ninth in abundance among minerals in the earth's crust, is useful because of its light weight, high melting point, and extreme resistance to corrosion.

Graduate Student

The graduate student is Arthur J. Kerbecek, Jr., who conducted the research for his doctoral dissertation at the suggestion of Dr. Colin G. Fink, professor emeritus of chemical engineering and inventor of the commercial method of chromium plating, the ductile tungsten lamp filament, and other processes.

Herbert H. Kellogg, associate professor of metallurgy at Columbia's Engineering School, who is a member of the government's Subcommittee on Basic Research in Extractive Metallurgy of Titanium, said that he plans to bring Mr. Kerbecek's process to the attention of that group at its next meeting. The Subcommittee is part of the Metallurgical Advisory Board of the National Research Council.

"The results of Mr. Kerbecek's research so far offer hope that we may be able, in the not-too-distant future, to use titanium on a large scale," Professor Kellogg said.

"The obstacle to increased production to meet this urgent problem is the difficulty of obtaining titanium from the compound in which it is commonly found in nature. Present methods of production are very costly.

"There is reason to believe that Mr. Kerbecek's method may be less expensive."

Details Unrevealed

Although details of the process have not been revealed, Mr. Kerbecek said that an electrolytic method is used to reduce the chloride, which is prepared from the original oxide.

Professor Fink, who has used the principle of electrolysis in solving many other problems, suggested this approach to him. Mr. Kerbecek spent nearly three years on the research.

It was pointed out that all three branches of the armed forces are eager to obtain titanium in large quantities, and industry, too, sees many uses for it, especially replacing aluminum and stainless steels for certain purposes.

The Navy would use titanium in ship-building, to protect parts of a vessel which are exposed to sea water. Because of titanium's extreme resistance to corrosion, salt water has little or no effect on it.

The Army, too, has many uses for titanium. The weight of certain weapons and some mobile equipment, designed to be carried by infantrymen, could be cut by as much as 50 per cent if titanium were used.

Perhaps the most immediate and vital need for titanium exists in the Air Force, in the construction of very high speed jet and rocket craft.

The U.S.A.F. believes that a supersonic airplane now being developed could be made lighter by half a ton if titanium were substituted for stainless steels.

Highway Race Necessary To Return Lost Youngster

MERIDIAN, Miss.—A 15 mile race down a lonely highway at a speed near 80 miles per hour was concluded happily when a 54 year old woman caught up with a station wagon to return to its parents a child who had fallen to the road from the moving vehicle.

Mrs. G. D. Middleton, Meridian, said that she was driving along the Richton-Laurel highway when she saw something fall from the back of a station wagon ahead of her.

"When I reached the spot I saw this little blond haired boy, sitting in the middle of the highway," she said. By the time she could get the squalling boy into her car, the station wagon was out of sight. She managed to catch them 15 miles up the road.

The grateful parents, identified as Mr. and Mrs. Morgan of Utah, said they had probably failed to fasten the back door of the station wagon after a stop on the highway.

Professors Claim Method To Make Synthetic Gravel

ITHICA, N. Y.—Two Cornell university professors say they have developed a process for producing synthetic gravel from mud.

Benjamin K. Hough and Julian C. Smith of the university engineering department said they make it from mud, inexpensive chemicals and sulfite liquor, a waste product of the paper industry.

They say it should be helpful in road building and other construction in gravel-short areas.

The components are mixed and fused into large pieces which may be broken up to resemble crushed rock.

March 31, 1952, An Important Date To Many

The 82nd Congress on April 5, 1951, by Public Law 16, extended the date for filing claims under the War Claims Act of 1948, as amended, from March 1, 1951, to March 31, 1952. Therefore, those of you who are entitled to file claims under provisions of the War Claims Act should make immediate arrangements to file your claims.

The War Claims Commission is most anxious that everyone having the right under the provisions of such act be fully advised as to the deadline for filing claims. If any of you are in doubt as to your rights to file a claim under this act, please write to me or to the War Claims Commission. Any letters coming to me on the matter will be promptly submitted to the War Claims Commission for full processing and consideration.

It Pays To Check The Facts

When you hear some story going the rounds that could be dangerous or detrimental either to an individual, an organization, or the government, always be sure to check it for factual basis before repeating it. We all know how dangerous unfounded gossip can be. No one realizes that better than the powers that be in the Kremlin.

The entire unrest and confusion that resulted in the downfall of the free governments in many of the satellite countries was commenced by planted gossipers and tale-bearers whose first allegiance was to Moscow. Unfounded gossip is like a prairie fire. It is easy to start and almost impossible to stop.

A good example came to my notice the other day. One man had heard a story that disturbed him very much, but instead of repeating it, he wrote me a letter and asked me to find out the facts. I had heard the story before and knew the facts, but I did not know that the story was being circulated again.

Here it is: On the 1951 fifty-cent piece there is an image of Benjamin Franklin and stamped on his neck are the initials "J.R.S." The story is being circulated that these are the initials of Joe Stalin.

Here are the true facts. The initials on the neck of Benjamin Franklin are the initials of John Ray Sinnock, formerly Chief Engraver at the Philadelphia mint. The reason they are on there is because for many years it has been a tradition and a custom for the initials of the designer of the coin to appear on it.

In 1946 the initials of the first and last name of Mr. Sinnock, towit, "J. S.," appeared on ten-cent coins. The story was circulating at that time that they were the initials of Joe Stalin.

This story of course created many protests. In view of these protests and the misunderstandings created by the circulated story, Mr. Sinnock's middle initial, "R," was also placed on the coin so that there could be no further misunderstanding. According to "International Who's Who," published in London, Stalin's full name is Josif Vissarionowich Stalin.

So far as the available records show, Josif Vissarionowich Stalin is still living. According to the American records, Mr. John Ray Sinnock, former Chief Engraver at the Philadelphia mint, is deceased.

The American people are entirely too intelligent to be sucked in by wild, unfounded stories, and I am proud that this constituent wrote me concerning this matter when he heard it.

In Russia the people must depend on gossip because their slightest question concerning any story they might hear could easily result in a quick trip to Siberia. I thank the Almighty Father that such is not the case in this country. Whatever the story might be, you have the right to know the facts behind it, and you may be assured that I will do my best to get them for you.

Farm Income

Contrary to the beliefs of many big city folks, the net farm incomes are still far below those of the non-farm individuals. The per capita income of the American farmers last year from all sources was $1020.00, compared with a per capita income of $1707.00 for the non-farm population. The income from farming alone amounted to $806.00 per capita.

Moisture And Wind Erosion Conditions In Texas

The latest reports from the Soil Conservation Service shows the major part of Texas severely hit by drouth. The hardest hit is the entire southwestern portion of the state, from the lower reaches of the Rio Grande to the western edge of the 18th Congressional District.

The northeast corner of the Panhandle appears to be in the best shape for moisture and cover. Those counties lying below the Caprock are the hardest hit in our section. The entire central portion of Texas is hard hit.

Recent rains in Eastern Texas have changed soil moisture and plant cover conditions, and this section is in good shape. Most of the Panhandle seems to have good cover except for a few small areas. These small areas can certainly produce a lot of dust when the wind gets to blowing.

Foreign Aid

I have recently obtained some figures on foreign economic and military aid since July 1945. I wish I had the space to put them all in, but will have to wait until later to do that. I thought you might be interested in the totals.

The total economic aid from July, 1945, to September, 1951, was $31,191,091,000. Military aid was $4,500,799,000. The economic aid includes grants and credits utilized. The biggest sum, as you perhaps suspect, went to the United Kingdom.

In economic aid grants it received $2,370,289,000, plus credits utilized in the amount of $4,727,836,000. The military aid amounted to $349,495,000. The total 35½ billion plus was divided among approximately 90 countries and possessions of countries. I will tell you more about it later.

This political year has a number of unusual aspects. Developments on the national and international scene, for example, have a greater than ordinary influence on the candidates and their activity.

Price Daniel, attorney general of Texas who is opposing Tom Connally, incumbent, for a place in the U. S. Senate, has criticized Connally for his views on foreign policy.

The senatorial race is a rather curious one in that Daniel has started early, and his workers are busily scratching for votes. Connally, on the other hand, has done little so far—little, that is, with respect to what can be seen on the surface. You may be sure that there is a good deal of strategical operation in the conference rooms where Connally's campaign is being planned.

Connally is holding his fire now, but obviously he is storing up a quantity of dry powder and will lay down a concentrated barrage when he thinks the time is right.

National and international politics is also the major influence in the governor's race. No major opponent for Governor Allan Shivers has yet come forward. Around the capitol, however, expert observers are looking for the "loyal Democrats" to bring out a gubernatorial candidate.

Shivers is heading up a conservative movement, the objective of which is to send an uninstructed delegation from Texas to the national convention.

The difference between the conservative Democrats and the "loyal" Democrats is that the former group opposes President Truman as a party nominee; the latter group is made up of a more "liberal" membership and would favor Truman or some other nominee pledged to continue the kind of policy which now guides the national administration.

Thus if the "loyals" put up a candidate, he will be the spokesman for his group, and the issue in the gubernatorial campaign will be whether Texas should send an instructed or an uninstructed delegation to the national Democratic convention.

Another extraordinary aspect of the political scene this year is the lack of candidates for state offices. Of course, it is early yet, but the dogwood has bloomed, and it is time for the aspirants to get busy if they are going to seek office.

John Ben Shepperd, who is after the attorney general's office being vacated by Daniel, is one who is convinced that a long, hard campaign is necessary for victory, inasmuch as Texas is so big that it takes months to get around and see the folks in all parts of the state.

It is natural for Shepperd to carry on this kind of campaign, as he is seeking his first elective office and thus has not previously made his appeal to the voters. Candidates who are running for re-election feel that they have less work to do, inasmuch as they have already won the approval of their constituents.

Where there is lack of opposition, the officeholder feels fairly secure at the moment, because any "unknown" would face a herculean job if he attempted now to go out and make himself known to the people.

Another advantage to the holders of relatively minor offices is that the big, hot campaigns, notably the senatorial race, will claim most of the headlines, and the other candidates will for the most part have to be content with smaller type, inferior positions in the paper, and fewer words.

All this is said to indicate something of the political picture as it is now. I learned long ago that when you talk about political situations, you have to specify "as of today."

There can be a lot of change tomorrow.

Miller Attends Ohio Convention

James E. Miller, Principal of Canyon High School, returned home last Wednesday night from a four day trip to Cincinnati, Ohio, where he attended The National Convention of Secondary School Principals.

Miller traveled by plane to and from the convention. He caught a plane at Amarillo on Saturday morning, February 16, for Cincinnati. He left Cincinnati on the return trip at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and landed at Amarillo at 9:30 that night. He remarked that the air was rough between Cincinnati and St. Louis on the return route.

The four day conference was held in the Netherland Plaza Hotel in Cincinnati. The conference theme this year was "Better Citizens Through Better Schools." One of the highlights of the convention occurred at the banquet on Saturday night, Feb. 16. The speaker of the evening was Dr. Walter H. Judd who spoke on "Education for America's Role in Today's World." Dr. Judd, a member of Congress from Minnesota, was given credit for an outstanding address.

Still another highlight in the convention was a musical program presented Tuesday evening, Feb. 19. Miller explained that Cincinnati had an advantage in this field in that it is one of the musical centers in the United States. Several numbers were given by school groups from Cincinnati school children. There were two choruses presented that night and special selections by smaller groups. The music of two orchestras was enjoyed and there was a real Negro minstrel presented by Negroes instead of the usual white actors with blackened faces.

During the convention Miller made a one-half day visit at the Hughes High School. Here he observed the latest methods of teaching in actual practice with students and teachers working together.

TO EACH HIS OWN

"What did you come to college for anyway?" demanded the disgusted Professor. "You are not doing any studying."

"Well," replied the student, "Mother says it's to fit me for the Presidency of the United States. Uncle Jim says it's to sow my wild oats. Sister Helen says it's to get a chum for her to marry. And Dad says it's to bankrupt the family."

HOW TO GET HER BACK

Flem: My wife has been at her mother's three weeks now and keeps prolonging her visit. I need her at home, but she pays no attention when I suggest that she return.

Flam: Get one of the neighbors to suggest she'd better do it, my boy.

NARY A WORD

Several days after his father died little Johnny was stopped in the street by a kindly neighbor. "And what were your poor father's last words?" the neighbor asked.

"He didn't have any," Johnny replied. "Mother was with him to the end."

NEXT ON LIST

"And now gentlemen," continued the congressman, "I wish to tax your memory."

"Good heavens," muttered a colleague, "why haven't we thought of that before."

WINDOW DRESSING

"Could I try on that red dress in the window?" asked the bright young thing.

"There's no need to do that," the elderly shop-assistant answered coldly; "we have several fitting-rooms."

MAKE SURE

Little Amelia (saying her prayers) — "Please, Lord, take care of Papa, take care of Mamma, take care of Grandma; and be sure to take care of yourself, or else we're sunk!"

NEW FIGHTER

The Air Force has awarded the contract for a new twin-jet fighter plane. The plane, presumably the McDonnell XF-88, is a fighter-bomber, designed to operate deep inside enemy territory.

NO HIP NEEDED

Wifey: "Oh Bill, baby can walk."

Hubby: "That's fine, now he can walk up and down at night by himself."

"Brand new" U. S. arms reported among Chinese in Burma.

OLD-FASHIONED LIVING

MODERN LIVING

MODERN LIVING IS ELECTRIC LIVING!
Scrub-a-dub-dub, work in the tub . . . that was the old way of clothes washing with the steaming kettles of hot water on the old kitchen wood stove. Water in the tub was either too hot or too cold, cleansing of the really dirty garments meant backbreaking scrubbing on the old corrugated scrub board and usually the kitchen floor got its share of messy, slopped-over yellow soap suds. Today, thanks to electric service, and modern electric appliances, wash day is almost completely automatic. Your clothes are washed automatically with correct water temperatures and modern improved soaps or detergents replace the old scrub board.

YOU SEE MORE because YOU GET MORE
No doubt about the fact you see more GMC trucks on the roads today than ever before—and the reason's no mystery.
This popularity must mean that GMC owners are getting more of the kind of performance they appreciate in a truck. Like what?
Like more horsepower. Not more than you need, but all that you need to meet exacting schedules—without relying on excessive speeds to make up the time many trucks lose when the going is rough.
Like more hub-to-hub, bumper-to-tail-light stamina. Plenty of brawn in the right places—yet a GMC is a trim truck, engineered so that it doesn't penalize your pay load with dead weight.
Whether your hauling involves gasoline or Diesel power—light, medium or maximum loads—why not come in and see a new GMC? See why you get more!

BROTHERHOOD WEEK

Brotherhood Week is observed to promote understanding and unity of all our people — no matter what their religion, race, or national origins.

"Spread of racial hatreds and group intolerance needs to be emphasized, as it is not primarily a danger to the intended victims but to the whole country. Once this poison enters a nation's bloodstream, the entire nation is doomed.

To fight against racial hatreds and intolerance is not merely our duty as decent human beings, but it determines the indispensable condition of our survival as free individuals and as a prosperous nation," stated Eric Johnston, head of United States Chamber of Commerce.

Here are some guiding rules essential to our nation's well-being:

1. Remove all racial or religious prejudices.

2. Try at all times to understand the other fellows' point of view.

3. Keep your own conduct above criticism.

4. Cooperate with organizations which are working for justice and harmony among various groups of our population.

5. Refrain at all times from calling any persons by names which are used as terms of reproach.

6. When you hear people making slurring remarks about any of your fellow Americans, let it be known that you disapprove.

7. Study the meaning of democracy.

8. Practice the Golden Rule in all your dealings with other people, regardless of their race, nationality, and creed.

Let us not begin destroying one another in this America, but make it a place where brotherhood is practiced all the time here in this United States of America, 'the last best hope of earth.'

ENGLISH STUDENTS WRITE AUTOBIOGRAPHIES

Autobiographies are being written by the English IV classes of Canyon High School as an English study project.

It is required each year in English IV that every student in the class write his life history from the time he was born to the present time.

Sweetheart Banquet and Prom Highlight Seasonal Socials

Highlighting the season's formal socials was the gala Sweetheart Banquet and Prom, annually sponsored by the Canyon chapter of FHA, Friday evening, February 22.

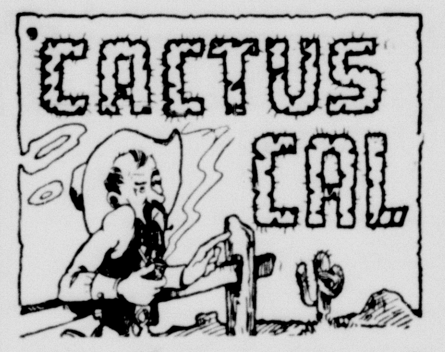
Mr. Cecil Massey, guest speaker, used as the topic of his amusing and challenging address, "The Comparison of Courtship now and in the old days."

Presentation of Prince Charming, Jimmy Cornette, was made by Joyce Payne, chapter president, as the club members sang "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

Appearing on the program were: Doyle Green, who gave a reading of proposal; Sue Ann Kinney, Shirley White, Shirley Glenn singing "Because of You," and Harrell Slack and Florence Coffee who sang "A Kiss to Build a Dream On."

Following the invocation by Superintendent E. A. Wooten, approximately 85 girls and their guests were served food prepared by the homemakers. The centerpieces of a little boy and girl on an iron bench surrounded by red and white carnations expressed the sweetheart decorations. On each table was featured red satin hearts in red and white net with red crepe paper streamers down the center of the tables.

Canyon High School gymnasium was transformed into a moonlit sweetheart garden for the annual prom following the banquet. White benches were placed by palm trees and entwining red roses. In the center of the garden was featured a large red heart which was further decorated by red and white streamers.



Well! Here I am again! In the same spot and the same time! Believe it or not I have just about gotten enough food rounded up to last me all summer and now I won't have to work! Out here on the plains, it would be orful if someone had to go without a meal in the middle of the day! Wal, kids, I guess I had better dish it out!

Spanish Fraternity Initiates Payne

Marilyn Alice Payne, Canyon High School Spanish instructor, was initiated as an alumni associate into Sigma Delta Pi, national Spanish honor fraternity, Saturday, February 23, at the home of Dr. Ples Harper.

The new chapter at West Texas State College will be instituted by Dr. Carl A. Tyre, fourth vice-president of the national organization, from New Mexico A&M, Las Cruces, New Mexico. Spanish honor students will be selected as members.

Miss Payne teaches Spanish, English, and journalism at Canyon High School. She previously has been head of the Spanish department at Carlsbad High School, Carlsbad, N. M., and Raton High School, Raton, N. M.

A member of the New Mexico state committee for organization of Spanish and a life member of the Delta Kappa Gamma, national honorary teachers fraternity, she has also traveled in Mexico.

Five other people were initiated as alumni associate members: Mrs. Audrey Jones and Mrs. Hazel Walsh of Canyon Grade School; Mrs. Tommie Montford, Junior High School; William Patman, Amarillo Junior College; and Miss Viola Ballard, Amarillo High School.

Dating Data

"Boys around CHS will slam a door in a girl's face before they will open it for her." This was a comment made by several girls in the recent poll taken in Canyon High School.

Is that the kind of reputation you boys want to have? If not, why don't you do something about it? Prove that the days of chivalry are not dead. After all, remember that courtesy is one of the highest ranking qualities desired in the personality of a boy, as was shown by the recent poll taken of the girls.

You would be surprised at what a big impression you would make on a girl just by opening the door for her, or picking up something she dropped. Don't think girls don't notice such little things because they do.

Don't be discouraged if one or two girls just charge right on through without waiting for Sir Gallahad to do his duty. It is because they didn't expect such gallantry, and it will take a while for them to get used to the change.

But keep on being so courteous that the girls, and not just CHS girls, will change that comment to: "Boys of CHS are the most considerate I have ever met."

Thurston Addresses Students In School Week Assembly

Texas Public Schools Week assembly was held Wednesday, Feb. 27. Reverend Herschel Thurston, minister of the First Methodist Church in Canyon, gave the address.

Special music by the band, under the direction of Herman Demus, and the chorus ensemble groups, under the direction of Miss Ada V. Clark, was also presented.

Sense of Mission. In Dallas, H. A. Hubert explained to the judge why he beat his wife with a broomstick at regular intervals to discourage her from going to church: "I want to go to hell, and I want her to go along."

Issue Skirted. In London, the trade journal Tailor & Cutter denounced pajamas, advised how to keep a nightshirt from creeping up during sleep: "Put your garters on upside down and connect the fasteners with the hem."

Eagles Capture District Crown By Defeating Floydada 66-51

The Canyon Eagles are district champs!

Canyon's High School Eagles pulled into the District 2-AA championship by overpowering the Floydada Whirlwinds, 66 to 51. The battle took place in the Canyon Gym, Tuesday, February 19.

The Eagles' "Globetrotter," Bob Ratliff, took the ball out of bounds under the Whirlwinds' net; spotted Ray Burrus at the other end of the court. Ratliff heaved the length of the court, but the ball sailed over Burrus' head and through the basket!

Burrus leads the scoring roster for the Eagles this season. He has scored 388 points in 26 games. Ratliff places second with 252 points. Williams, sinking 217 points, comes in third.

1255 points have been scored by the Eagles; previous to the play in the Regional Tournament, Feb. 29 and March 1, the Eagles' opponents had sunk only 915 points.

Rules for TPSW Themes Revealed

Texas Public School Week theme papers will be written by all English students during the week of March 2-8.

Prizes will be $3, $2 and $1 for each of the three best themes. Subjects may be anything pertaining to changes and improvements in the public schools up to the present time, and also on subjects pertaining to improvements and changes which might be brought about to make our schools better in the future.

The ultimate outcome for the week should be a greater interest in improving and extending both learning conditions and facilities of the school. Rules set up by the high school governing the writing of themes are:

The themes are to be regular class assignments, given in all high school English classes.

The theme should be between 250 and 500 words in length.

The four best papers will be selected from the first, second, third and fourth year classes.

Each of the papers will be given a number by the instructor which will be supplied by the high school principal for her grade. The teacher will list the numbers on a separate piece of paper with the student's name.

A committee of instructors from West Texas State College will select the three winning papers from the 16 papers submitted by the principal.

The three winning students will furnish two copies of their papers to the high school principal who will place them in the hands of the officers of the local Masonic Order. The themes will be printed in the local newspaper.

Awards will be presented to all winners in an assembly program following Texas Public School Week.

Every citizen should visit a public school during this period so that they may become personally acquainted with the programs and accomplishments of the public school system.

Artists Anonymous Is New Art Club

'Artists Anonymous,' the newly organized art club of CHS, elected officers Wednesday, February 20. Wanda Sheets, president; Bettie Graham, vice-president; Florence Coffee, secretary-treasurer; and Lou Yarbrough, reporter, were the officers the group selected.

'Art for All' is the motto of the new organization. "A4A" will be the motto written in the year book. The palette, with all colors, will be the insignia and colors of the art club.

Meetings are scheduled for every first and third Wednesday directly after school in room 38. Miss Claudia Neelley, head of the art department of the high school, will sponsor the club.

The publicity, year book, and policy committees were appointed by the temporary chairman last week and are working on their goals.

There are approximately 25 members in the club and the organization hopes to have many more.

The club will buy its own supplies and work on just one major project for one whole year, but each individual will have his own project.

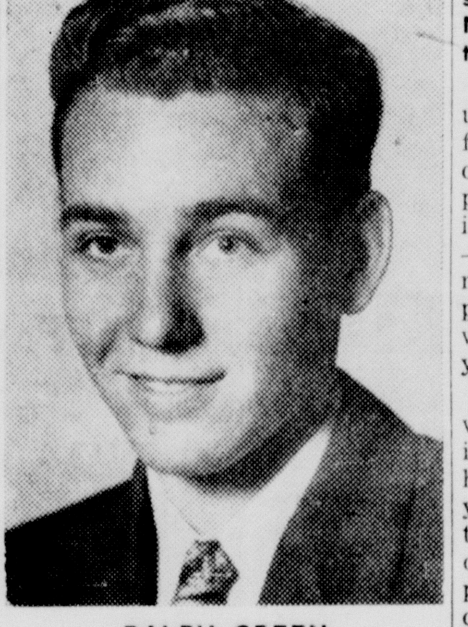
DISTRICT FTA PRESIDENT



RALPH GREEN

President of the Ninth District chapter of FTA, Ralph Green, junior, enrolled in Canyon High School in December of 1950. Since then, Ralph has taken an active part in the functions of the school.

Before coming to CHS, Ralph was selected as the most outstanding boy in the freshman class at Dalhart.

As vice-president of the local chapter of FTA, Ralph was nominated and elected president of the district chapter at the district meeting in November.

Ralph served as associate editor of The Eagle's Tale during the first semester of this year, and he is at the present time sports editor of the school paper.

Frank Gilbreth, a leading character in the junior play, "Cheaper By The Dozen," was portrayed by Ralph.

An active member of the band, Ralph plays the trombone, is vice-president of the band, and reports the news of the band council, which is the advisory group to the band director.

The newly formed Science Club elected Ralph as its president and reporter of club news. He is also a member of the Artists Anonymous club. Ralph's hobbies are roller skating and music. His plans for the future are to be an English teacher and a creative writer.

The Future Teachers movement evolved from the Horace Mann Centennial in 1937 and has developed into one of the outstanding state and national organizations. National Education Association is the national sponsor of the club.

FTA organizations are based upon one important factor: "The future of mankind is in the youth of today." This organization prepares today's youth for a career in the greatest of all occupations — teaching. Participation in this movement prepares youth to improve the quality of American life, when he is the leader in later years.

The posterity of today's youth will have a background for teaching which past generations did not have. The name FTA implies that young people are concerned with the welfare of their future. It offers an excellent opportunity for pioneers who wish to serve their country and humanity.

Outstanding purposes and ideals of the club are the following: to develop young people to be teachers; to acquaint teachers in training with the history, ethics, and background of the teaching profession; to give future teachers practical experience; to interest the best of youth in education; to encourage careful selection of persons; and to bring teacher demand and supply into a reasonable balance.

Eight members and the sponsors of the D. A. Shirley FTA Club will participate in the state meeting. They will leave Canyon Thursday at noon and arrive in Denton that evening. Meetings will be conducted Friday and Saturday with the banquet concluding the event. Sunday will find the group on their way home.

Those going on the trip are: Doris Bourn, Janice Jennings, Wanette Green, Ralph Green, Doyle Green, Alice Simms, Bettie Graham, Dorothy Cleavinger; and the club sponsors, Mrs. Irene Beard and Mrs. Alice Simms.

Graham Selected FTA Sweetheart

Bettie Jean Graham, senior, was elected sweetheart of the FTA club Monday night, February 18, at the regular monthly meeting.

Bettie will represent Canyon High at the annual Sweetheart Contest at the annual FTA meeting this week. She will give a five-minute talk on why she plans to be a teacher. The state sweetheart is chosen on the basis of the content of the speech, personality, and appearance.

At the business meeting Doris Bourn and Nancy Bolton gave reports on the lives of Lincoln and Washington. Ann Holt played the music for the program. This was a medley of popular songs. Bettie Graham sang "Because of You," as a solo.

"Why Look Back?"

By Charles Donnell

In the year 1934, a howling depression was raging in Canyon, Texas. On the wings of this storm a new CHS student was carried to earth. He was lucky enough to receive his grandfather's care to the age of two days. Also lucky for him, his grandfather was a doctor.

This new-born scholar was crowned with the name of Charles Louis Donnell. To make a long story short, he was soon gifted with the nickname of "Pete." This has never gained bearings from any origin except his mother's own statement of guilt.

With two days of Canyon air in his lungs and a little Texas beefsteak under his ribs, our chubby little prodigy removed to his new sea-shore residence. Maybe not exactly sea-shore, but it was a very near facsimile. To be exact, it was on the southeast bank of Buffalo Lake.

With the smell of sea water in his nose and cattle on his feet, our future student began life.

Life was not easy among the cockle-burrs and rattlesnakes, but the thrill of life in the Panhandle inspired him to further his intellect.

At the age of three, our wonderous adventurer was set forth on a new tricycle. This machine proved to be an excellent mode of transportation. The fact that stickers are painful was left far in the dark past.

Life was full of pleasures until the day his sparring partner was lost in a sudden blaze. His boss had decided that nipples and bottles were not as fitting as steak and gravy.

Thus, on his own, we soon find his hunting grounds being changed and a school bus substituted for the faithful old tricycle.

The complications of life were fast closing upon our unsuspecting little sidewinder.
